2009 ALCC National Day of Service Project – Healing Garden, Anschutz Cancer Pavilion, Aurora, CO

Project: Renovation of a second floor, roof-top patio garden area that is viewed by patients undergoing chemotherapy treatment at the Anschutz Cancer Pavilion (formerly Fitzsimons Hospital) facility. The existing planters were in need of renovation that includes pruning of overgrown plants, thinning and removing existing plants and the addition of annuals and perennials suited to the challenging growing conditions and that would also be attractive when viewed from inside the building and on the patio itself. Lauren Bloom designed the space and volunteers from ALCC member firms renovated the existing planters to provide patients and their families, hospital staff and other guests with a restful and healing environment.
